

PR and Media guidance for INvolve's 2023 Heroes Role Model Lists supported by YouTube.

Congratulations on being named as one of our 2023 Heroes Role Models! Thank you for all the work that you do to create businesses where women can succeed.

In case you missed the announcement, we're thrilled to announce that our Heroes Lists will be supported by our 2023 media partner, YouTube. We're excited to partner with YouTube and further amplify your recognition within this year's Lists through the use of impactful video content.

We know that you and your organization are excited about your inclusion within these lists and are keen to share this news and your achievements with everyone. We'd love you to do so too, and we've compiled this useful document that provides guidance to help you promote your place within these lists.

The golden rule is that the lists remain 100% confidential until they are officially released on Thursday 28 September 06:01 BST / 01:01am ET, so please don't pitch to journalists in advance or mention anything on social media before then.

PRESS RELEASES

What is INvolve doing to promote the Heroes Role Models Lists?

We will be making the announcement about the Heroes Role Model Lists across our social media and sharing the news with media outlets. The media we focus on are UK and US-based national, broadcast, international business, and tier-one business trade publications.

We also activate a huge amount of activity on social media, both across our own channels (LinkedIn, Twitter, and Facebook) and through securing support from companies, Role Models, and influential supporters.

Can I contact the media directly?

Yes, absolutely! If you have strong contacts with your own 'vertical' trade media, then we would love you to approach them and inform them about inclusion within these lists. Please, make sure that they respect the embargo and do not publish anything about your inclusion until the lists are live on Thursday 28 September 06:01am BST / 01:01 ET.

Please do let us know of any coverage you generate, as it's helpful for us to know the overall reach of the lists. We'd also love to shout your news on our social channels too.

When can I release my own press release?

Any time after Thursday 28 September 06:01 BST / 01:01 ET.

Do I need to get my press release approved?

No, it's your press release and you have control over this. It is helpful for us to see press releases for information, but we don't expect to sign them off. Please email involve@diffusionpr.com if you'd like to share a copy of your press release with us.

How should I refer to the Heroes Lists?

When referring to the lists, please use the correct wording as follows.

- The 100 Heroes Executives List is called: Heroes 100 Executives Role Model List.
 - The Advocates List is called: Heroes 35 Advocates Role Model List.
 - The Future Leaders List is called: Heroes 100 Future Leaders Role Model List.
- When referring to the lists as a whole, please refer to them as the Heroes Role Model Lists supported by YouTube.

Can we see INvolve's press release?

We are happy to share our main press release with you as soon as the lists are live on Thursday 28 September and you can take any content directly from this press release. The press release also contains some background details on Heroes and the selection process at the end of the document.

If you would like to include a quote from INvolve in your press release, please use the following:

Founder & CEO of INvolve, Suki Sandhu OBE, says, "I'm so thrilled to be celebrating our 2023 Heroes Role Models, a global group of trailblazing Executives, Future Leaders and Advocates driving change for women in business. All the individuals within these lists are championing inclusion and leveraging their expertise and knowledge to drive impactful initiatives and strategic change within their organizations. It's vital that women across global organizations can succeed and achieve career success, and these Role Models are essential drivers of change who are smashing barriers to progress. We could not effect change without them leading the way."

SOCIAL MEDIA

Can I post on social media?

Yes, absolutely! Please do join your fellow Role Models to celebrate your success across social media. Below are some suggested posts that you can use across your various channels. Please feel free to tweak these and/or create your own, and it would be great if you could cite the list correctly (as stated above), tag INvolve so we can share and boost your posts and use the hashtag #HERRoleModels23 across all your social media posts.

To celebrate our partnership with YouTube we are also putting a big emphasis on video content for this year's launch and invite both Role Models and their companies to post a video to their YouTube channel or send a video to us to publish – guidance below.

Remember, please don't post on social media until after the embargo has lifted on Thursday 28 September 06:01am BST / 01:01am ET.

We have created some visual graphics to help you share your news with your social media followers and networks. All images and editable files (psd) can be downloaded here or see the end of this guide for examples.

YouTube

As YouTube are our new media partner, we're keen to amplify the work being done by Role Models through impactful and innovative video content. We'd love for both Role Models and companies to create short videos celebrating their inclusion in the Heroes Role Model Lists.

For your own YouTube channel

If you already have your own YouTube channel, then record a video or create a YouTube Short about your success and send us the link. We'll be sharing videos across our social media channels and can add yours to a playlist on our own channel.

Remember to use the #HERRoleModels23 hashtag in any YouTube content that you might create in relation to the Heroes Role Model Lists.

Create a YouTube Short and share with us

We will be using YouTube Shorts to spotlight Heroes Role Models on our YouTube channel. YouTube Shorts are short, snappy vertical videos for YouTube.

Some ideas for your YouTube Short celebrating your inclusion in the Heroes Role Model List include:

1. Your response to being selected as a Heroes Role Model
2. Why Role Models in business are so important
3. A key piece of practical advice for inclusion that you want to share with others

If you'd like to submit a video for our channel please do so by no later than Thursday 21 September to marketing@involvepeople.org

Please note that if you send in a YouTube Short after the Thursday 21 September we cannot guarantee that it will be uploaded and ready for you to share on Heroes list launch day Thursday 28 September.

Guidelines for creating a YouTube Short are as follows:

- Videos must be no more than 55 seconds long. Your videos will be presented as a YouTube Short and therefore must abide by the time limit. Aim for a short and punchy video.
- Videos must be filmed in portrait / vertically. This is to ensure that your video is supported by YouTube Shorts.

Managing Trolls / Negative Responses

The majority of listers who publicize their inclusion within the lists receive widespread praise and congratulations. However, in the unlikely event that you see a negative reaction (e.g. sustained trolling on social media) we and our PR team are available to help support and advise you. If you experience a reaction that upsets you and that you feel needs to be addressed, please do get in touch with us and screenshot any of the responses so we can help.

Social Media Graphics

We have created some visual graphics to help you share your news with your social media followers and networks.

All images and editable files (psd) can be downloaded here.

Headshot graphics for each list (please use the editable psd file to upload your own headshot).
